

Hey Peeps!

Today I met with some cabin contractors. We're planning out the girls cabins now. I just know they will want mirrors in their cabins. I'm just not sure how big of mirrors to get. I went ahead and purchased a mirror that I think might be big enough, but I have no clue. Let me know what you think. I threw in a measuring tape too, but you're so smart that I'm sure you WILL NOT NEED IT for these mirrors. Keep it anyway, it may be of use to you later!

The contractor gave me some kind of instructions too for the mirrors, but I have no clue how to decipher it! I'm definitely not a maintenance guy!

Hopefully you all can figure it out! So that Camp Notalotawata Creek (nope, not that one either) can start up this summer for campers!
