

Friends,

Thank you for helping me out today. You may not know me well, so let me introduce myself. My name is Chris. While I may be ruggedly handsome and quite adorable, many might call me absurdly eccentric! I love Camp and all things Camp and therefore, I am in need of your help. You see, I hope to purchase some land where I can create my very own Camp. Camp Chris, if you will! Maybe not that. Maybe Camp Awesomeness! Well, I'll work on a name later. Anyway, I have discovered there are so many hoops to jump through and red-tape to cross in starting your own Camp. I know you are incredibly smart people and should be able to assist me in the creation of Camp Sweet Fancy Moses (still not quite there). I have a series of problems that I just can't quite figure out. If you would be so kind, could you please help me solve these? Camp Amazing (that does have a ring to it) is depending on you for its creation! Please help me in solving these problems as quickly as possible as deadlines are soon approaching. The first of many is included in this envelope. It is a letter from the State Licensure Department. It seems to be somewhat coded and I have no clue how to solve it. If you figure it out, run quickly to Box 2 to retrieve your second task. Thank you friends! And Good Luck!

Camp Great News (I feel like I'm so close)

PS. While I was at the Licensure Department Office, I accidentally took one of their maps and magazines out of the waiting room. If you happen to end up at their office, could you kindly return these for me! Thanks a bunch!
