

Campers,

Oh I am so glad you're here and are able to help me! Dreadfully, the monster, Sirhclallak, has stolen all of the S'mores! Every last one of them is gone! I can't believe it either.

Somehow, you have to help me get them back. Please, you are our only hope at defeating him. Look carefully all through this crate and do your best at solving his puzzles first to last. Almost everything at camp is messed up because of him, he's even switched up letters on all the computer keyboards! You can do it, campers!!!
